Facts and Fancies

ISN'T THIS A NICE THING

From another direction comes a complaint about the poorly packed, low quality of peaches being offered to the public on the markets and from the retail stores. Mind you, neither the seller on a city public market or the retailer, is to blame for this situation. The man to blame is the grower. He is the one who is packing and facing the poor quality fruit and incidentally ruining his own market for all time to come.

I stated last week that if the growers in this district did not come to their senses and produce quality fruit properly graded and packed, that British Columbia fruit would, before very long drive the Ontario product completely off the markets. That statement still holds good. Unless the growers of this district wake up and attend to their knitting it is only a matter of a couple of years until they will be drifting around in a mess of unsold, unsaleable fruit, just like a shipwrecked sailor in a rowboat in the middle of the Atlantic without any oars.

This time the complaint is not only about second, third and fourth grade peaches being packed under a layer of number one fruit, but it also brings into the limelight again the advantage taken by the grower to peddle this type of stuff under the flashy salesmanship of the red leno cover.

The worst feature of this complaint is that it comes from the Capital city of Canada, one of the best markets in the Dominion for high quality goods, and what makes it worse still the complaint did not come from an individual but direct from the chambers of Ottawa City Council, where the question of poor, badly graded peaches being sold to the public under the flashiness of the red leno cover was discussed.

The following article is taken from the Ottawa Morning Journal, of Tuesday, August 21st, and tells its own sad tale:

Because of colored netting placed over baskets of fruit, Ottawa shoppers were not receiving full value for their money, Alderman Pingle declared at a meeting of Council, Monday night.

The alderman stated that baskets of peaches covered with red mesh, were being sold as No. 1 fruit but they were No. 2, 3 and 4 quality. "Many shoppers think they are buying high quality fruit," the alderman stated, "but when they get home and remove the red netting they find they have bought inferior fruit."

He believed Council "should wake up, and fast" to the type of dealings carried out with the use of colored netting. Council should feel its responsibility and take action.

Alderman Coulter contended the Provincial Department of Health should set up regulations to protect people from being "gypped" in the manner described by Alderman Pingle. Council should inform the Board of Health that they were not satisfied with regulations pertaining to the sale of produce. "And they might include potato chips," he added.

Controller Goodwin claimed that only British Columbia and the United States properly packed and graded fruit. He said the blame for selling improperly graded fruit did not lie entirely with the retailer, since many buy produce by the grades marked on baskets.

Alderman Journeaux pointed out food inspection was a responsibility of the Dominion Government's Weights and Measures branch. Controller Goodwin concurred.

What do you think of that? Is it not a nice thing to be emanating from the council proceedings of a big city like Ottawa? Does it not speak volumes for the terrible condition that the fruit industry of this district has arrived at?

Just imagine it. Grimsby peaches, the finest in the world when graded and packed properly, held up to ridicule and even put on a lower par than British Columbia and United States peaches in a public council meeting in the Capitol City of our country. Every grower in this district should hang his head in shame, not because every grower is shipping this kind of crap or taking advantage of the sales value of the red leno, but because the minority of growers who are doing so are ruining the industry for all of them.

For three-quarters of a century Grimsby peaches have been known the world over as the finest and best that could be produced anywhere. Is this great reputation to be blasted to smithereens by the unscrupulous methods of the grower himself? If so, it is high time that the government stepped in and put such restrictive measures into operation that will save him from his own destruction as well as saving the fair name of this great fruit growing section.

Ottawa is not the only city that has been riled up over the poor grade fruit that has gone on the market with the red leno cover acting as a high pressure salesman. Take Windsor, Woodstock and other Western Ontario cities where bylaws have been passed prohibiting the sale of any fruit with a colored cover over it.

Peaches are not the only fruit that growers manipulate. How about the cherries that were shipped last season with about half the basket being filled with weeds, stones, dirt and small green apples? One shipping firm receiving back in one day from two different points of the compass, not only complaints about this nefarious practise but boxes containing the rubbish.

It is pretty nearly time that a real, honest-to-goodness fruit inspection system was put into practise in this district. If the growers will not band together and have all their fruit packed and inspected by government men in central packing plants then let the government put on a sufficient number of men to inspect the packing and fruit right in the individual packing houses, not once a week but almost every day and when suspicious two or three times a day, just so-called unexpected visits.

Moreover there should be a "flying patrol" on the main highways, just the same as the Provincial Police patrol the district. The "flying inspector" is liable to drop into a fruit stand or stop a trucker at any time and turn out the baskets. This would soon stop the sale of faced rubbish to the motorist and the American tourist. This sale of poor fruit to Americans is just plain horse thievery. We invite the "Yank" to come over here and spend his money and then we turn around and rob him blind and nothing is done about it.

Let us put a real inspection system into operation. A system with plenty of inspectors on the job and with a law to back them up that is full of sharp pointed teeth. Teeth that will sink into the bone when the culprit is found guilty before a magistrate. Do this and it will not be long until the burglarizing fruit grower will be packing just as high grade fruit as his honest neighbor and the fruit industry will not only be saved but will expand to greater heights.

I want it distinctly understood, that when I speak about fruit growers packing and shipping the rubbish that they are, that I do not mean all fruit growers, I mean the minority that are doing so and injuring the majority, but their number has now grown to such proportions that it is impossible to write an article and segregate the good, honest grower.

Here is a word of warning. If any more complaints come through from Tom McCall of the Ontario Tourist and Publicity Bureau, or any other source where the complaint is in writing or printed in a newspaper, I am GOING TO USE NAMES contained in these complaints. I care not who the grower is or how big he is. If he wants to carry on this contemptible kind of business of robbing the public and bringing down ruin on his neighbor and his industry, then he must take the results that will accrue from the powerful floodlights of newspaper publicity.

Harvest Song

(To a friend gone to the peach picking in The Niagara District)

Dear trueheart, up at Grimsby Beach,
O tell me what you are,
A picker or a packer of
The peaches that are green.

This might I bear with fortitude;
But tell me not, I pray,
You cover them with netting red,
Those peaches hard and green.

For this, my friend, is quite unlike
What I expect from you.
When I go marketing for peach
I want them ripe, not green.

Now, as I buy the veiled four quarts,
Deceived and wroth I find
On tearing off the cursed net
The peaches bullets, green.

So, dear my friend, I beg of you,
Do tell me what you are—
A packer yes, but better no
Of peaches hard and green.

Home Again

Sgt. Terry Farrell, R.C.A.F., son of Leslie Farrell of Trenton and grandson of ex-Mayor and Mrs. Charles T. Farrell, Mountain street. Terry spent four years in the Air Force and became a real globe-trotting flyer. He was in about every camp between Winnipeg and Prince Edward Island before getting overseas last Spring. Then the war ended and Terry arrived back home the first of this month. He expects his discharge within the next few days. A brother, Johnny, has been on service since September, 1939, and is at present in Holland with the army.

SERVICEMEN ARRIVE HOME

Petty Officer Earl St. John, R.C.N., son of Mrs. Fred St. John, Hamilton, formerly of Grimsby, and grandson of Marcus and Mrs. St. John, Mountain street, has been discharged from the service after four years of duty.

Fit./Lieut. Alex Gillespie, R.C.A.F. arrived this week on the Samaria. A former employee of the Canadian Bank of Commerce he enlisted in March of 1940. In September 1940, he was married to Phyllis, daughter of A.P. and Mrs. Norton. He trained at Toronto, St. Thomas and Brandon, Man., proceeding overseas in 1942, where he was attached to Headquarters staff.

L/Cpl. Robert H. Wells, R.C.C.S. arrived home last week after four years service. "Bobby" enlisted in the summer of 1940 and went overseas in the summer of 1941. He took part in the D-Day invasion and never stopped wagging signals (Continued on page 6)

Big City Paper Endorses Stand

(Editorial in St. Catharines Standard, Friday, August 24th)

The Grimsby Independent carries a front page editorial this week full of righteous indignation and it is all justified. It is based on a letter received from a Cleveland tourist, name and address given, the letter being passed on to the Grimsby Chamber of Commerce by the Director of Ontario Travel and Publicity, to whom it was addressed from Cleveland.

The story is rather an old one, but this tourist bought a basket of peaches, with a Grimsby label, and the fruit looked delicious on top, just under the netting. When the basket was emptied at home, there were only rotten peaches beneath, quite unfit to eat.

This practise is neither unknown nor common, but it is much too frequent. Where one case is reported, there are no doubt many such not brought to light at all. The Grimsby Editor suggests overall inspection of all fruit offered for sale, whether on roadside stands or anywhere. The suggestion is good. Some stiff fines would be salutary.

Putting good fruit on top of a basket and culls below the top layer is about as cheap a form of chiseling which one can find. No reputable fruit agency or merchant lets that sort of thing get by for a minute. Nor any decent grower.

Grimsby Schools To Open Tuesday

Board Of Education Can See No Necessity For Delaying Opening Of High School This Year.

Meeting in special session on Tuesday night Grimsby Board of Education decided that both the High and Public schools should open for the Autumn term on Tuesday next, September 4th.

Chairman T. L. Dymond stated that he had contacted several fruit growers and from information gleaned could not see the necessity of keeping the High school closed during any portion of the month of September. Crop was short and growers were not too hard pressed for labor as a result.

Also, as a result of the short crop Clovelly Farm Service camp closed on Tuesday, but Nixon Hall would remain open for some time yet. Clovelly was closed through pupils returning home for school opening.

Secretary Muir stated that he would notify all teachers in the High school of the opening date.

Both schools are in splendid shape for the coming term.

Highway Patrol

Provincial Police highway patrols, discontinued on highways in this area in June, 1943, are to be resumed immediately.

Provincial Constable E. G. Hope, of Grimsby detachment, will patrol on the Queen Elizabeth Way and No. 8 highway from Vineland west to the Wentworth county line, while Provincial Constable Ernest Hart, in charge of Smithville district, will handle traffic matters on No. 20 highway in that area in addition to his other work.

Increasing traffic as a result of gas rationing being cancelled has necessitated resumption of highway patrols.

St. Catharines Is A Growing City

St. Catharines continues to grow, an increase of 566 persons over the 1944 population being announced by Assessment Commissioner Martin H. Laird. Mr. Laird said the unofficial tabulation of the annual census disclosed a population of 35,210, compared to 34,644 a year ago.

There has been a continuous year-by-year population increase in St. Catharines since 1932, a span of 13 years, and the city's wartime population has shown an increase of nearly 8,000 persons. In 1939, the population was 27,756. In addition, it is estimated that in the environs of St. Catharines there has been an increase of about 10,000 persons.

Glad To Be Home

Corp. Guy A. J. Winter, R.C.A.-S.C. who arrived home on Tuesday night will be six years in the army next week, having enlisted Sept. 4th, 1939. He went overseas in September 1940 and landed in France on D-Day. Was all through France, Belgium, Holland and into Germany. He will be best remembered as one of the crack Peach Buds junior hockey team previous to the outbreak of war. While overseas he played hockey in England and Scotland and last winter played with an army team in Antwerp. He was married in England and his wife arrived in Grimsby the end of June. Mrs. Harold Beamer is a sister and his late father was a four year veteran of the First Great War.

Lake Erosion Up For Discussion

County Council Will Petition Federal Government To Build Breakwater From Grimsby To Niagara River.

Realizing the seriousness of the erosion and loss caused all along the southern shores of Lake Ontario by the encroaching waters of the lake, and in answer to complaints of farmers and others, Lincoln county council last Tuesday, just before adjourning its August session, passed a resolution moved by George M. Wiley and seconded by L. R. Lymburner "that the council of Lincoln recommend to the Federal Government that a breakwater be built along the southern shore of Lake Ontario from Hamilton to the Niagara river."

Much erosion in the past years attended by large property damage to farms, summer cottages and roads in this county from Grimsby to Niagara-on-the-Lake made Lincoln council realize that steps to stop further loss cannot be put off any longer. It is felt this work (Continued on page 6)

Hospital Will Be Open To Visitors

From 10 a.m. To 4 p.m. On Labor Day You May Go And Inspect West Lincoln Memorial Hospital.

The West Lincoln Memorial Hospital is now nearing completion and for the convenience of many citizens of West Lincoln who have expressed a desire to have a look, the hospital will be open on Labour Day from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., many citizens who have been going up after working hours and Sundays find the place locked up, so that this will be much appreciated.

The formal opening will probably be in October when there will be no doubt be some opening ceremonies and the place will then be equipped, so that this is just a preview.

Equipment is being moved in and the painting is well along, tile floors are still to be laid and things erected in place. In these days of shortages it does seem to be a sign of some thing stirring when the coal bin is full and ready to go.

A notice elsewhere draws attention to the public being welcome on Monday, but does request that children be left at home.

Butcher Business Property Is Sold

Quality Meat Market and Roy St. John Property Sold To Windsor Parties — Started Many Years Ago.

A deal was closed up over the weekend whereby the Quality Meat Market business of St. John and Shaw and the Main street property of Roy St. John, was purchased by Messrs. Lesser and Martin of Windsor. The new owners will take possession on October first. The deal was negotiated by Henry Pryhicka.

This butcher business is an old established business in the same stand. In the early 70's the late George Mabey a farmer and a Drover opened up a butcher shop in the then hamlet known as "The Forty," which in 1876 became the incorporated village of Grimsby. Mr. Mabey conducted the business for some years.

After his demise his widow and son Samuel E. Mabey continued the business which was eventually taken over by S. E. Mabey who operated it until about 1917 when he sold. Then it had a succession of owners until Roy St. John purchased it in 1928.

The property has a frontage on Main street of 30 feet and a depth of over 280 ft. The building which has been remodelled several times was originally erected about 75 years ago.

Fire Laddies Are Fire Spectators

Called to a farm fire on the Grimsby Centre Road west in North Grimsby township Thursday afternoon, local firemen, and Alfred LePage, fire chief, had the unusual experience of being forbidden to put out the fire. The farm tenant, it appears, was burning grass and neighbours who saw the smoke, fearing that the flames might get beyond control turned in a fire alarm. According to the farmer he had waited for several days for an opportunity to burn the grass when the wind was in the right direction to have it burned in safety and he could see no reason for all the excitement. The firemen agreed with him.

Making Boxes For London Concern

One of the busiest places in the Fruit Belt now is upstairs over the Independent office, where "Bill" Clare has his wood products plant. "Bill" had a busy spring and summer manufacturing fruit picking ladders and lawn chairs and now has a gang of men working days and evenings turning out 10,000 bushel grape boxes for the London Winery Co.

The Old Town Bell

This ancient old landmark has pealed forth the fire alarms of the old village and the new and larger town since June of 1883. At different times during the past quarter century desultory efforts have been made to do away with the old bell, but to no avail. The latest talk along this line was a month ago when Fire Chief LePage tried out three "peanut whistle" sirens, but it will be a long cold and blustery day when the old bell fails to send forth its strident call for fire and to keep the housewife informed that it is meal time. This bell was purchased by public subscription and was cast in New York state.

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

AND SOMETIMES LESS

An observant man told us the other day that most garden things take from thirty to forty days to mature, but a rumor planted at a backyard fence will spread throughout the neighborhood in an hour.

And, sometimes, less.

TWO GRAND JOBS ARE FINISHED

In last week's issue of this paper you were told that the Grimsby Cigarette Fund was being wound up after four and one half years successful operation, by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, acting in a supervisory capacity, and with "Cammy" Millyard doing 98 per cent of the worrying over funds and 102 per cent of the work in connection with the Fund.

A grand job has now been completed with this Fund. During its operation the great sum of $3,285.90 has been realized in several different ways. This money purchased the grand total of 942,000 cigarettes in 3,140 packages of 300's, every one of which went overseas to Grimsby fighting men.

To handle this amount of money and this large number of individual packages, with the red tape connected thereto requires a tremendous amount of detail work, but "Cammy" was equal to the job.

Shipments of cigarettes overseas have been stopped. The Fund has on hand approximately $140, just what disposition will be made with this money has not been decided upon by the committee.

In this week's issue you will find a detailed financial statement of the Grimsby Salvage Committee, since its inception in March 1941. It is a statement that will surprise even the most optimistic supporters of this particular effort to raise funds for war purposes.

The committee in charge of the salvage collections are to be congratulated upon the excellent results attained. A great portion of these results came through the indefatigable work of the late Jas. A. Wray, who right from the start of the campaign until his demise some weeks ago gave unstintingly of his time and labor to make the campaign a successful one. He was ably assisted by Miss Verna Lewis in the handling of the books, the money and the sales of materials collected.

When you look over that statement you will find many surprising things. For instance, 10 tons of old tires; 38 tons of glass, just imagine that amount of unbroken and broken glass laying around in your back yard; 38½ tons of tin, just old tin cans; 13 tons of rags and to top it all they collected 225 tons of waste paper with 82 tons of old iron to weigh it down.

It is the amount of paper that intrigues me. 225 tons, that is a lot of stock. That amount of newsprint, at our present rate of using, would print The Independent for the next 22½ years. Of course, it wouldn't actually, because we expect to double in size of paper and double in circulation within the next two years.

Receipts of the committee from all sources totalled $3,864.54. Despite the great amount of labor and detail work in connection with the salvage total expenditures were only $697.42. Donations to various war charities totalled $2,764.83. Miss Lewis has cash on hand of $397.34.

Like the Cigarette Fund the Salvage committee have not decided what to do with this money on hand.

Might I make a suggestion to both committees. Take the two sums of money and donate them to West Lincoln Memorial Hospital. The hospital can quite easily use that $537. Think it over, then send "Sandy" a couple of cheques.

Any time a man marries for money, he earns it.

HOUSING AND FAMILY LIFE

Housing is the most urgent structural need of the people of Canada. The need is not merely to provide places in which people can eat and sleep, but to provide homes in which families can be raised in privacy decency and independence. Family life is the foundation of our democratic social order, and no amount of State paternalism toward what are degradingly called the "common people" can take its place.

The saying, "The Englishman's home is his castle," is no exaggeration, for the homes of England and of Canada are sacred against invasion by the State so long as they are conducted lawfully. When the State steps in and assumes any part of the responsibility of parenthood, the status of the home and the stamina and liberty of citizenship are undermined. That has been demonstrated by ancient as well as modern history. In Sparta the State gradually took over the care of all the children, and family life was destroyed. The emphasis was placed on the community, with communal kitchens and eating places. Although they became a strong and courageous people under this communistic discipline, the Spartans made no progress and they finally suffered extinction.

There has been a serious breaking up of home life in Canada as well as all other countries during these years of war. Everybody has been overworked and has had little time or inclination to settle down to home life. Fathers have gone to the war and mothers gone to work in factories, in many cases to the neglect of their homes and of children. Eating-out has become a common practise with large numbers of people, and there has been an increase in boarding-houses and rented rooms, which are merely sleeping places.

This situation has been aggravated by lack of individual housing accommodation. Now that the war is over and our soldiers are returning to civilian life, and our women to domestic duties, there is an immediate necessity for the construction of homes in all parts of Canada.

NOW OR NEVER

The winter ahead may be "one of the grimmest in history" for the liberated millions of Europe, warned Herbert E. Lehman, Director-General of United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, the other day in London. He was recommending a new UNRRA levy of $1,516,906,150 upon participating nations. He told delegates of 43 member countries, "We stand before the crisis. We must act and we must act now."

The thought of winter brings warm clothing to mind. There is much that Canadians would do if they could. Of manufactured goods Canada has little, but there are millions of serviceable used garments lying in attics and clothes closets across the country which can be spared without having to be replaced. A National Clothing Collection is to be held from October 1-20 to reach into every home in Canada for these used clothes. Giving them will not deplete the local supply to a danger point. Quick and decisive action is necessary, for Europe needs them next winter. It is now or never.

This is a fateful hour in history and heed should be given Mr. Lehman's stark warning when he says that unless contributing countries supplement their aid already being given, "the name of the United Nations will be a mockery in Europe this winter." He asked for millions more as he told the meeting: "It is inconceivable that the United Nations could abandon the peoples of the liberated areas of Europe at the moment of their greatest peril. They must be brought safely through the following harvest."

These war-torn peoples will be living precariously at the mercy of the elements from October to April. They are as a shipwrecked crew adrift at sea. We have life-saving equipment. We should give them all we can spare.

Europe's Christmas hearths will be meagrely kindled and the Christmas stockings, if there are any, will be empty. Europe's shivering millions will look at the raiment that shields their frail bodies, and they will think of us who live in lands of plenty according as we measure up to our responsibility and share with them what we can spare—and see that they get it all and get it quickly.

A JOB THEY SHUN

One of the jobs on a newspaper that smacks most of drudgery, in the opinion of the majority of newspapermen, is that of the obituary writer. To most newspaper readers it would appear to be a grinding monotony of names, dates and places, arranged according to a fixed pattern. But it is an important job, calling for accuracy, tact, and thoroughness in detail. A misspelled name, an error in a date, may embarrass the bereaved family.

There have been classic cases in newspaper offices where inadvertent errors by the obituary writer have "killed off" the wrong member of the family. Recently, a news service received an advance obituary story concerning the seriously ill father of the Premier of a Canadian Province. By mischance, the story was prematurely released. Not until news of the man's "death" had been relayed across the country did the news service learn that the victim of their error was alive and kicking.

Many top-flight newspapermen have paper. Once, with great indignation, he deserved a turn at writing obituaries. Though demanded of the editor, "What happened to most of them accept the assignment reluctantly, my 95-year-old corpse that failed to make the uary writer has developed an intense interest in the job. He takes a personal interest in each story and is likely to express himself when one of his articles fails to make the by what he knows.

FARMERS' BULLETIN

HUNGRY EUROPE NEEDS MEAT

The shortage of food in liberated Europe is desperate. Meat is one of the most critical needs.

As a great food-producing nation, Canada must, can—and will—help to meet this emergency.

That is why slaughtering has been placed under strict control.

That is why ration coupons will soon be used again by Canadians to buy meat.

There is only one objective:—To reduce meat consumption in Canada in order to provide direct aid for the hungry peoples of Europe.

Slaughter Control

Farmers who slaughter meat for their own or their farmer neighbor's use are required to submit monthly reports (Form RB-61) and to surrender coupons for the meat they use and sell.

Any excess of meat over the farmer's or his neighbor's needs may be sold only to the holder of a regular slaughter permit.

The minimum amount which a farmer may sell to such a permit holder is one quarter of beef or half a hog carcass. Sheep, lambs or calves slaughtered by a farmer for his own or his neighbor's use may not be sold into the meat trade.

Locker Operators

Under the meat rationing regulations, locker operators are required to submit a list of their patrons to the nearest Ration Branch Office.

A supply of Consumer Declaration forms is being forwarded to each locker operator who will, in turn, distribute them to his patrons. The patron is responsible for completing the form and filing it with the Ration Branch Office.

Consumers must surrender coupons for all meat held in lockers over and above 4 lbs. for each person in the household at a rate of 2 lbs. per coupon. However, no more than 50% of the "M" coupons in the ration books of the consumer and his household need be surrendered.

MEAT RATIONING FACTS

Amount of Ration will be roughly 2 lbs. (carcass weight) per person, per week.

Rationed Meats. All cooked, canned, fancy and "red" meats.

Unrationed Meats—beef brain, head, tail, blood, tripe; calf brain, head; pork brain, head, tail, pigfeet, spare ribs; lamb brain, head, tail, fries; poultry, game and fish (canned or fresh).

Coupons—brown "M" coupons in Ration Book No. 5. One coupon will become valid each week.

Coupon Values—Group "A", 1 lb. per coupon; Group "B", 1½ lbs. per coupon; Group "C", 2 lbs. per coupon; Group "D", 2½ lbs. per coupon; Group "E", 3 lbs. per coupon.

Tokens. Tokens, eight of which are equivalent to one coupon, will be used as coupon change.

Farmers must turn in to their Local Ration Boards a coupon for each 4 lbs. of meat (carcass weight) they use in their households from their own slaughtering. So that they may buy other meats from their butchers, no more than one-half of the valid coupons in the hands of the farmer and his household need be surrendered. Farmers who sell meat to a neighbour farmer must collect coupons at the rate of 4 lbs. (carcass weight) per coupon.

Rationing

Is your assurance of a fair share.

Is a protection against waste... shortages... inflation.

That is why farmers are asked to continue to collect and turn in coupons to their Local Ration Boards—once a month—in the RB-61 envelope.

Women Queue Up To Obtain Shoes

(Jersey Weekly Post—Channel Islands)

Hundreds of women queued from an early hour on July 25th outside Messrs. Briggs and Company, in King Street, where, for the first time for years, large quantities of modern shoes were on sale. The first in the queue was in her place shortly after midnight and as the early hours drew on so the crowd increased until at 4 o'clock many residents in the neighbourhood found sleep almost impossible. The weather was perfect for the queueists, who remained in excellent humour throughout their long wait.

When the doors opened at 10 o'clock the management wisely decided to allow only a few people in at a time, and after being served they left by the side door. "It was a great thrill to us to see everyone leave so pleased with themselves," declared a member of the staff of the "E.P." This afternoon there was still a queue outside the shop, many having been there since this morning. Many young women of 20 to 21, who waited, found it hard to believe there was ever before such a variety of designs.

Messrs. Briggs have certainly won the "shoe race" so far as Jersey is concerned.

This Should Stop Some Arguments

(Issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture)

A comparison of the official net weights and various kinds of standard containers of fruits shows some interesting facts. The net weight of a barrel of apples is approximately 135 lbs., and a barrel of potatoes, 165 lb. While a bushel of apples weighs approximately 45 lb., a bushel of peaches, pears, or plums is 50 lb., the same as a bushel of turnips; and a bushel of ripe tomatoes is 60 lb., similar to that of potatoes. The net weight of a box of apples is 42 lb., a box of peaches, 20 lb.; a box of pears, 42 lb.; a box of crab-apples 36 lb.; and a Quebec box of ripe tomatoes, 30 lb. A pear box of green tomatoes contains 35 lb. An 11-quart flat basket of pears has a net weight of 15 lb., while a like basket of plums is one pound more.

Some of the net weights and containers in detail are:—Apples, barrel, 135 lb.; box, 42 lb.; bushel, 45 lb.; crate, 45 lb.; 6-quart open basket, 7 lb.; 11-quart open basket, 14 lb.

Peaches—6-quart lino basket, 10 lb.; 11-quart lino basket, 17 lb.; peach box, 20 lb.; 4-basket crate, 20 lb.; and bushel, 50 lb.

Pears—6-quart flat basket, 8 lb.; 6-quart lino basket, 11 lb.; 11-quart flat basket, 15 lb.; 11-quart lino basket, 18 lb.; box, 42 lb.; and bushel, 50 lb.

Plums and prunes—6-quart flat basket, 8 lb.; 6-quart lino basket, 11 lb.; 11-quart flat basket, 16 lb.; 4-basket crate, 20 lb.; Display Lug, 5 lb.; Suitcase, 17 lb.; and bushel, 50 lb.

Tomatoes, ripe—6-quart basket, 10 lb.; 11-quart basket, 17 lb.; 4-basket crate, 20 lb.; Lug, 30 lb.; Quebec box, 30 lb.; and bushel, 60 lb. Comparison of the 6-quart measures of the various fruits is of interest.

There is only one thing which may be said in favor of a letter that contains a bill. One never arrives with a "postage due" notation.

Crop Report

(Ontario Dept. of Agriculture)

Peaches—Total peach crop estimates is now placed at 817,900 bushels as compared with 1,174,200 in 1944, or a 30% reduction, which is approximately 10% better than June estimate. Crop is irregular by districts as indicated by decreases from 1944 in Niagara of 30%, Norfolk 10%, Essex and Middlesex each 35%, Burlington 95%, and Brant 80%, with Elgin showing the best for many years at 75% increase. Except for a few trees on low, wet soils, there has been good growth of wood and foliage and fruit so far is clean and sizing well. Earliest varieties are now being harvested.

Pears—Total pear estimate remains as reported in June as only approximately 47,300 bushels, or 87% less than in 1944. Bartlett's show decrease of 95% Kieffer's 85%, and Other Varieties 88%. Trees are in good condition with very little blight and only slight aphid injury on new growth.

Plums and Fresh Prunes—Present prospects show no betterment since June report and total yield is placed at only approximately 29,500 bushels, or 80% below 1944 production. Japanese varieties indicates a reduction of 75%, European 79%, and fresh prunes almost a failure at 95% decrease.

Ho-Ho, Strawberry Is "Not A Berry"

There is a belief, rather widely held, that the name strawberry was applied to that luscious fruit because of the straw placed between the rows of the cultivated berries, to prevent them being "sanded" and to provide a mulch. That such is not the origin of the name will become apparent when it is considered that strawberries were known by that name centuries before they were grown in gardens. The Anglo-Saxon name was strow berry.

Late editions of Webster's dictionary interpret this as strawberry and suggest that the name was applied because the berry was found under the new-mown grass, which seems rather far-fetched. Earlier editions of Webster say the name came from the resemblance of the runners of the plant to straws. Other authorities say the name was originally "strayberry," so called from the rambling habit of the runners. Still another definition offered is that these berries were usually encountered in the wild state in the "strays," a Yorkshire name applied to bits of waste land.

By the way, the strawberry, says Webster, is not properly a berry, but an enlarged, pulpy receptacle, containing numerous seed-like "achenes."

Bingo! Bingo!!

You say that a woman as old as me,
(I'm just a little past seventy-three),
Should stay at home at night by jingo,
But once again I'm off to Bingo.

I work and slave around all day,
And, goodness knows, I earn my pay;
What's that, you say? I should watch my lingo;
Well, be that as it may, I'm off to Bingo.

Oh, it's cook and rub and answer
From dawn to dusk, and then some
With the house hot as San Domingo
Well, I'm fed up, I'm off to Bingo.

Now where's my purse, d
where's my hat, d
I'll get your breakfast, you ca
count on that.
Sure call me a loafer, call me gringo
I'm announcing the banns, I'm to the Bingo.

should be made paramount in the rehabilitation and reconstruction period.

The county council ordered $5,830.92 be paid at once to the newly organized St. Catharines-Lincoln Health Unit, this amount representing the county's share of the expenses of the Health Unit for the months of August and September at the rate of $1.10 per capita based on the county population figure of 31,805 as contained in the Department of Municipal Affairs Blue Book for 1943.

The Industrial Home Committee Board of Management was authorized to deal with the renewal of the fire insurance policies of the County Home totalling at present $72,700 with full authority to change the coverage if deemed advisable and also to deal with a request for revision of rates.

The County Roads Committee recommended that the resolution of the Wellington County Council that snow plowing equipment be pooled for use in all parts of counties be received and filed. Also that the disposal of the buildings on the property at Vineland be left in the hands of the Special Road Committee for disposal at the best advantage to the County. The report was passed by the County Council.

The Agricultural Committee's recommendation that the usual grant of $100 be made to any Agricultural Society in Lincoln holding a fair this year, was also passed by the council.

The sub-committee on general administration was authorized to award contracts for supplying fuel for the Court House, Registry Office and Jail for the 1945-46 heating period.

Prohibition of double cuffs on men's shirts and shortening the shirt tail by two inches in Great Britain, resulted in the saving of four million square yards of materials and the labour of a thousand workers according to reported estimates.

DO NOT fill jars too full. Their discomfort may turn out to be your doom. Leave sufficient headroom (from one-half to one inch, depending on directions for food being canned) for expansion of food-stuffs. Severe cuts, eye injuries and scalds have occurred through failure to observe this important rule.

et The Paper
Appeared On Time

The writer of this article, as it happens, once many years ago conducted an American newspaper in Shanghai. With the exception of three or four editors who were British or American, the whole staff was Chinese. The composing room and press room were entirely Chinese, excepting the English foreman, and of the whole printing staff none knew English. The linotype operators had learned to recognize the letters of the English alphabet and merely copied off on the linotype machine the letters that were on the paper before them. Of what the combinations of those letters meant they had not the faintest idea. But they could set type with remarkable speed and moderate accuracy. In the same way the make-up men transferred type to columns designated on dummies without knowing what the type referred to.

At midnight of every day on which the paper was published the printing room was a bedlam. It was formlessness before the principle of order was introduced into the cosmos. Nothing could be found. Nobody knew where anything had been. It was logically, physically, mathematically impossible that the paper could appear before morning, if ever. And for the first few months the writer of this article verged nightly on the hysterical. He lectured, remonstrated, exhorted, pleaded, caajoled, stormed, made scenes. The Chinese looked on him wonderingly, soothingly, and completely unmoved. They followed their appointed course, as if the scene being made by the incomprehensible but quite decent foreigner were a curious extraplanetary spectacle of which no doubt they had to take cognizance but by which they need not be affected. And, at a certain point the writer shrugged his shoulders in resignation and despair, and went home. It was hopeless. Nothing could be done. And the next morning the paper appeared, on time, as directed, and without flaw. How, remained a mystery to the end. To the end it was inconceivable at midnight that the paper could appear by morning. And to the end it appeared every morning, without fail and flawless. And the writer soon learned to go out to the composing room at midnight, survey the chaos with tranquility and affection, exchange drooleries with the more raffish of the printers and go home, quite serene and undoubting. He could never have put into words his reasons for confidence, since the visible evidence was all against it. It was faith, and every morning his faith was vindicated.

Fleet Street Is Noted For Adventure

Sir Philip Gibbs once dubbed it "the street of adventure," and during six years of war Fleet street has lived up to that description. Centre of the British Press world, it is the place where the news agencies of the United Nations have their offices, linked with the Capitals of world by telegraph, cable, wireless and radio.

Running from the Strand down to the shadow of St. Paul's Cathedral and to the Thames bank on the boundaries of the city proper, it is typically English, with its 16th century pubs such as "the Old Cock Tavern" and "the Cheshire Cheese," its wren churches hidden behind Victorian houses and its tobacconists' shops with long clay pipes arrayed in the windows. It is a street of courts as well as of newspapers, for, there are no less than 19 down the thoroughfare.

It was in April, 1941, during the last months of the blitz that Fleet Street really went to war, yet still managed to print its 10,000,000 newspaper copies daily. Printers saw their coffee shops closed because "the gas main opposite the 'news of the world' was hit last night by an incendiary bomb which pierced the pavement." The Canadian Press moved its offices after a fire was started by fire bombs on the top floor.

Reuters and the Daily Express were worried when a parachute mine dangled precariously on telephone wires a few feet from their buildings. In the Express next day, this front-page notice was printed: "Many readers of The Daily Express did not receive their copy of the paper yesterday morning. The circumstances which caused delay in deliveries were due to enemy actions. One day we will be able to tell you a thrilling story."

And all that day the messengers and delivery boys were picking their way over hose-pipes stretched across the street, while charred paper fluttered down and everything carried the tang of scorched newspaper.

There weren't only "home problems." The papers had to arrive at their destination even though five or six hours late. London newspapers in the Midlands sometimes had been pierced by bullets when the train was strafed by enemy aircraft.

About the only thing that hasn't been motorized is the modern baby buggy.

It Could Be Done

A Land Army girl and a handsome farm lad were walking along a road together. The farm lad was carrying a large pail on his back, holding a chicken in one hand, a cane in the other, and leading a goat. They came to a dark lane.

Said the girl: "Oh, it's so dark here, that I'm afraid to walk with you. You might try to kiss me."

Said the farm lad: How could I with all these things I'm carrying."

"Well," suggested the girl, "you might stick the cane in the ground, tie the goat to it, and put the chicken under the pail."

Stainless steel is being used for making teeth in Russia. Just the things to use in trying out the bride's cooking.

TO THE CANADIAN PUBLIC

WE SAY

Thank You

DURING the war, so happily 'ended, the Canadian National Railways, as Canada's greatest transportation system, had a gigantic task to do.

Our ability to fulfill this duty to the credit and satisfaction of the Nation is due, not only to the skill, devotion and zeal of those who are our workers, but in large measure to the Canadian Public who, by their generous responses to appeals for help and their uncomplaining acceptances of restrictions and controls, lightened our burden.

We wish to thank the Canadian Public sincerely for their help—the millions of passengers who used our trains and steamships, the shippers of freight and express, the guests in our hotels, the patrons of our telegraph and other services, and the unnumbered citizens who refrained from travelling needlessly as their contribution to the common cause.

The surrender of the last enemy has ended the fighting but it has not ended the war job of the Canadian National Railways. The men and women in the Services have to be brought home without delay and for that purpose we shall continue to employ all our available passenger equipment. Millions of tons of materials must be transported for industrial reconversion.

So in saying "Thank You" we express the hope that in carrying out these and other extensions of our war job, we may continue to enjoy the understanding of the Canadian Public.

The Difference

There was a man named Dunup
Brown who ran a store in a certain town, he was not a friend to the newspaper man, so never an ad in his paper ran. In some respects he was pretty wise and knew he ought to advertise, so he fixed up a lot of printed dope and sent it by mail in an envelope. The busy man as he sat at work ripped open his mail with a hasty jerk; when he came to that dodger from Dunup
Brown, he twisted it up and threw it down and soon it was swept through the door, consigned to the flames and seen no more.

Another merchant named Eli
Race who ran a store in that self same place inserted an ad in the local sheet and got results that were hard to beat. For the busy man read the paper through and his wife and children read it, too, and all of them noted that bit of space that was filled with the ad of Eli Race. It was read by the neighbors who came and went and straight to that store their steps were bent, and the merchant prospered because he was wise and on to the way to advertise.

At least the meat situation has passed the baloney stage.
